'Batista Peace Cabinet Quits

Civil Rights Suspension Brings Crisis

HAVANA (AP) — A government decree suspended civil rights throughout revolt-torn Cuba again Wednesday and set off a Cabinet crisis. President Fulgencio Batista rode out the storm but saw his peace Cabinet walk out on him en masse.

The 22-member peace Cabinet—named last Thursday for the difficult task of restoring order and conducting elections June 1—resigned after the decree was pushed through at an emergency meeting.

Premier Emilio Nunez Portuondo, the former ambassador to the U.N., led the walkout. He strode from the session and quit. He had declared only last night there would be no suspension of constitutional guarantees such as had been decreed seven times in 1957.

Guell Named Premier

But Nunez Portuondo said in a statement Cuba's political situation arose "not because of the insincerity of President Batista and his government but because of his opponents, whose only desire is violence to solve our national problems." He said he would resume his ambassadorship to the U.N.

Batista immediately named a new Cabinet. The premiership went to Gonzalo Guell, former minister of state. Most of the other ministers—Batista supporters who included business and civic leaders never in Cabinet jobs before—were reappointed.

Censorship Imposed

The suspension of constitutional guarantees is effective 45 days. It means immediate censorship of the press, radio and TV, including outgoing foreign news dispatches.

Rights of public assembly and freedom from arrest without warrant were cancelled for the 45-day period, giving military forces and police a free hand to crush activities deemed revolutionary or subversive. The decree in effect rules out election campaigning, since all mass meetings are prohibited.

The action probably means cancellation of a threatened antigovernment demonstration by 18,000 Havana University students, set for Thursday. Police are empowered to smash it.

It's pretty hard to slam the door on an old friend."

Mack made a farewell appearance before the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight. It was this group which had forced his resignation from the Federal Communications Commission by an inquiry into his financial and other relations with old friends from Florida.

The 48-year-old Miami man was tense and subdued for the most part, but showed flashes of spirit.

He testified he was "bothered" by Florida friends while a Miami TV case was before the commission. But he swore nobody influenced his decision even if some people thought they did. "I don't want to pressure very well," he said.

He said he can't account at the moment for an unexplained $7,986 bank credit in his favor, though he said he thought he would be able to explain where some of the money came from once he has a chance to look up the records.

Mack—who told the lawmakers "I don't feel too good"—appeared publicly for the first time since he crumpled under committee scolding March 3. He bowed soon afterward to demands for his resignation.

The atmosphere was different this time.

Chairman Harris (D-Ark) and most other members of the subcommittee told Mack they felt deep sympathy for him and said they commended him for frank testimony.

Said Mack to Harris, who led the successful drive to get him off the commission: "When you get down to Florida, come and see me."

Miners Union Calls For Jobless Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Mine Workers Wednesday urged Congress to increase unemployment compensation to 75 per cent of the average weekly wage of jobless workers.

A resolution adopted by the UMW's International Executive Board also recommended that payments continue throughout the period of unemployment.

The amount had duration of unemployment compensation now varying according to state laws, which govern the program.

Ike To Delay Any Tax Cut

Decision Won't Be Made Until Trends Clarify

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and his economic advisers talked about remedies for the recession Wednesday but decided to wait awhile before proposing any tax cut.

"No decision regarding taxes has been made," Secretary of the Treasury Anderson reported after this latest top-level conference on what to do about the slump in business and jobs.

Anderson added: "Whatever decision regarding taxes is taken will be reached only when the impact of current developments on the future course of the economy has been clarified and after consultation with congressional leaders."

Reuther's Proposal

Walter Reuther, addressing an AFL-CIO economic conference here, said that if other antirecession moves fail, the government should halt tax withholding from workers' pay for 90 days. The president of the United Auto Workers said this would boost the nation's purchasing power by 500 million dollars a week.

Reuther also wants immediate action on a tax cut, expanded public works spending and broadened unemployment compensation benefits.

This afternoon the Senate voted 93-1 to put Congress on record as favoring the fastest possible speedup on civil construction projects that have already been appropriated.

Meanwhile, the House Armed Services Committee voted 24-2 for a Democratic-sponsored anti-recession resolution saying that military construction projects already planned and appropriated for should be "accelerated to the greater practical extent."

Spud-up Announced

Without waiting for the actual committee vote, Dep. Secretary of Defense Quarles announced a speedup on approximately two billion dollars worth of construction for the next five months.

In Other Developments:

1. The Senate approved an emergency $1,850,000,000 housing bill designed to open up 600,000 new jobs around the country. Its sponsor, Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), estimates it would mean construction of an additional 200,000 houses this year.

2. Eisenhower sent Congress a request for $85,603,000 in additional appropriations for reclamation and watershed and flood protection. It would permit a start on the Flaming Gorge Dam in Utah and the Navajo Dam in New Mexico, and provide increases for projects under way in the West.

Leopold Will Go To Puerto Rico

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois Pardon and Parole Board Wednesday approved thrill-killer Nathan Leopold's request to become a $10-a-month laboratory worker in a Puerto Rican hospital.

Chairman Frank Stransky said Leopold probably will be released from Stateville Penitentiary Thursday morning.

Stransky said he expects that Leopold will have a chance to visit relatives in the United States before he leaves for Puerto Rico.

Leopold, the paroled slayer of 14-year-old Bobby Franks, will report to Illinois parole authorities on his release and will be under supervision of Puerto Rico parole authorities in that country.

The only technicality that could prevent Leopold's release at the designated time Thursday, Stransky said, would be inability to get the necessary papers and records together.

Leopold served 33 years in prison for the 1924 slaying of the Franks boy. His parole was authorized by the board Feb. 20, pending approval of one of several job offers made to him.

Leopold, who has an intelligence quotient far above the genius level, favored the humble hospital job from the start.

He told his attorneys his only desire is to "get lost" from the society he has known and spend his remaining years serving humanity for long periods, the spokesman said.

Broadway "Role" Features Slap

Joyce Greller cogitates over snarling animal head in her New York apartment yesterday after Tuesday night's appearance in a Broadway play. Her role consisted of her mounting the stage and slapping the leading man, Kenneth Haigh, as he spoke his lines in "Look Back in Anger." Joyce said that she was fed up with men and that she left her seat on an impulse because what was going on reminded her of "all the rotten men I've known." (Story on page 2) (AP Photofax)

March Jobless Total Becomes Numbers Game

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington economists are playing a numbers game trying to figure out how many Americans are unemployed.

Data showing 5,173,000 idle, represented the government's count for mid-February. The March figures are just now being collected and won't be announced for a month.

What the March figures will show is important. President Eisenhower has said they will be a key to whether the recession is ending.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell says the February jobless total should have been the peak.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks said "the next 60 days will be the acid test."

The degree to which the government takes pump-priming measures depends a lot on what the March job figures show, as does an eventual decision on whether to cut taxes.

But there's not too much optimism among economists here that March data will show much improvement. Normally unemployment declines 200,000 to 300,000 between February and March.

Nat Goldfinger, a research economist for the AFL-CIO, said the government now has sufficient data to show that unemployment will either stay the same or register an increase when the March figures are compiled.

Goldfinger said initial claims from newly idle workers under the Unemployment Compensation system are fairly current and a good indicator. He said in early February they showed an increase of about 60 per cent over the same weeks of past year, but in early March there was a 90 per cent increase.

"Either administration leaders are being given bum information or they're deliberately confusing things," Goldfinger said. "This whole business that we have to wait to see what the March figures show is just plain nuts."

Leopold will go to Puerto Rico.

Oil Center's Capture Claimed By Jakarta

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Jakarta government announced Wednesday night the capture of the American-operated oil center of Pakanburu that had been seized by Sumatran rebels.

But the rebel radio at Padang refused Thursday to concede the loss of the city and said heavy fighting goes on.

Jakarta parachute troopers were dropped early Wednesday around Pakanburu, in the heart of Central Sumatra, in the battle for control of the rich oil lands run by the U.S.-owned Caltex Oil Co. Americans in the area were reportedly in no danger.

It was the first time he had voted to break a tie since 1956. The bill is the first major piece of antirecession legislation to pass the Senate this year. Its sponsors say it may bring construction of an additional 200,000 houses this year.

In addition to making large new funds available to buy mortgages and allowing the raise in interest rates, the bill lowers the down payments on FHA mortgages, and extends for two years the GI Home loan programs for World War II veterans.

DETROIT (AP) — Forty Dearborn Junior Chamber of Commerce members gathered around banquet tables to honor 17-year-old Ann Sinclair Hodges, Michigan's "Voice of Democracy."

The Dearborn lass had brought national recognition to the Jaycees. Her recorded essay, "I Speak for Democracy," was judged best in a national U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce contest.

At the speakers' table Tuesday night were a plaque and radio, both for Miss Hodges.

But Miss Hodges was not there. The banquet committee had forgotten to invite her.

Three committee members confessed each thought the other was handling the invitation.

National forces of the Jakarta government have delivered an ultimatum — expiring today — demanding that the port of Padang be cleared of all ships. Two navy corvettes have traded salvos with shore batteries, and a naval battle appeared likely within hours.

Jakarta amphibious forces also hit the east coast oil port of Dumai and started driving inland.

U.S. Ambassador Howard Jones said the 600 Americans in the Pakanburu area appeared to be safe. He said about 350 American employees of Caltex and their dependents were in Rumbai.

Countering for the GOP, Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) said the increase is needed to attract private lending funds for the mortgages. He said that to deny the increase would "cripple the bill" and undercut the effort to battle recession by stimulating homebuilding.

Debate centered on the proposed hike in the GI interest rate.

Sen. Long (D-La.) described the proposed interest boost as "a price support program for money lenders."

Sparksman Chief Sponsor Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), chief sponsor of the measure, said it could mean as many as 600,000 new jobs in the 1958 construction season.

Sputnik II Death Dive Seen In Month

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Sputnik II — as big as the German V2 rockets that hit London — is expected to make a flaming dive to oblivion in a month.

The Russian moon with its dead dog voyager is losing altitude at the rate of five miles a day, the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory estimates.

At the present loss of altitude, the satellite is expected to fall around April 14.

It swoops to within 120 miles of the earth at the low point of its orbit. The loss of altitude is almost entirely at the high point or apogee, now 550 miles. This is about half the altitude the satellite achieved when it was launched Nov. 3 with shaggy dog Laika aboard.

Western Europe Dreads Full Blast Of American Recession

Allies' Economy
Tied In Closely
With That Of U.S.

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe believes it can avoid a recession if the United States' vast economy gets back into high gear this spring.

For the first time in months, hope flourished among America's friends on this side of the Atlantic that the business downturn in the United States is almost over.

Recent timid price revivals on various stock exchanges reflected this mood.

If this hope is borne out, the economics of Western Europe will have gotten through a tricky financial winter with almost no damage.

Unemployment for the whole region now has climbed to an estimated 4,500,000. This represents only a fraction of the total work force, however, and is lower than the latest reported U. S. unemployment total of 5,173,000.

Economists agree that an improvement in the American situation must come soon. Otherwise Western Europe will feel the full blast of depressing business influences.

Since World War II, which left most European economies in shreds, the outpouring of American aid plus the closure of many traditional trade channels to the East, has considerably heightened Europe's dependence on U. S. trade.

Fluctuations in the American business barometer produce sensitive reactions around the markets of Europe, a slowdown in American spending spells danger for Europe's exports—with a consequent threat to imports from America on which European economy hinges.

A country-by-country survey by The Associated Press shows some leveling off of the widespread prosperity Western Europe has been enjoying for a decade.

But the situation varies from country to country and industry to industry. Some nations, such as Britain, are continuing to enforce tough credit-squeeze policies to combat inflation—the main economic worry during the prosperous postwar years.

In West Germany Willi Richter, chairman of the Labor Union Federation, said he was more concerned with rising consumer prices than with a possible economic slowdown.

France has no unemployment problem to speak of. Her war in Algeria has withdrawn manpower from the labor market while arms spending has kept the economy at record levels.

The harbors of the maritime nations provide one of the few outward signs that business is tighter now than a year ago. Long lines of freighters and tankers are tied up.

In Britain 99 British ships and 42 foreign vessels are laid up. In Denmark 39 Danish ships swing idly at anchor.

Industrial investment continues high almost everywhere. Paradoxes show themselves in many places. British tool makers are experiencing a decline in the demand for their products yet sales of British automobiles remain high with exports to the United States showing an upward curve.

Army To Launch Third Explorer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has been authorized to launch a third Explorer satellite in the very near future. Secretary of the Army Wilber Brucker said Wednesday.

Brucker said he could not reveal the exact day for the effort to send aloft a companion for the first Explorer placed in orbit around the earth on Jan. 31.

Explorer No. 2 was launched on March 5, but failed to get up enough speed to attain its orbit because the final, small rocket did not go off.

An Army spokesman, meanwhile, said that the Army has five additional Jupiter-C rocket combinations and that they will be used to put up space moons. Asked about this, Brucker would say only that the Army has authorization for a third Explorer.

Brucker also said the Army will award a research and development contract very soon for the Pershing missile, a solid-fuel successor to the Redstone which is now in production.

Fed Up With Men, Girl Mounts Stage, Belts Actor

NEW YORK (AP)—A woman canman who drives his wife into getting fed up with men some—leaving him, and then takes her best friend as his mistress. Actor Kenneth Haigh plays the leading what made her mount the stage male role.

By the end of the second act, Miss Greller said she was seething with a boy friend, and this furiously at intermission trying to calm herself. But when the third all the rotten men I've known," act got under way, her anger exploded. She left her seat.

"I don't know how I got up on the stage," she said. "I probably couldn't do it again."

Anyhow, she was up there, pounding actor Haigh with her fist, and shouting what sounded like, "He left me, he left me!" The curtain was rung down as "Something began building up in me right from the beginning," she Haigh and another actor, Alan Bates, carried her off the stage.

The show resumed after the play is about a self-pitying cident.

ELVIS GETS FINE SENDOFF — Singer Elvis Presley, packing an old-fashioned blunderbuss, gets thoroughly "bussed" by a pair of film starlets at Hollywood before he left yesterday for Memphis, Tenn., and induction into the Army on March 20. Westerns Lead Emmy Nominees

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Nominations for the television academy's Emmy awards were announced Wednesday and horse operas and their heroes were far out in front.

Winners from among the list of 125 nominees will be disclosed April 15 after voting by academy members.

Here are some highlights of the nominations:

In the best dramatic series three out of five nominees were Westerns. They were "Gunsmoke," "Maverick" and "Wagon Train." Others in this class were "Lassie" and "Perry Mason."

Barriger told the annual meeting of the American Railway Engineering Assn. that the carriers need a billion dollars extra a year to modernize their plant and revalue their services.

He said with the large-scale consolidations, the competition of two or possibly three railroads, could be provided at the principal centers, except possibly in New England.

Barriger said an estimated 11 per cent over-all reduction in operating expenses following national consolidation of the carriers would entail an equivalent fare reduction, provided traffic remained static.

"However," he said, "the vitalizing effect of the service improvements of consolidation and the rate adjustments that would follow should enable the railroads to recover more than an off-setting amount of traffic and would actually lead to a net increase, rather than a decrease, in railroad employment over a near-term span of years."

Barriger said it cost the railroads $3½ billion dollars to switch to diesel power but that the transformation brought economies amounting to about a billion dollars.

The savings brought about by dieselization, he said, "represent virtually the entire earning power of the railroads over the last 10 years."

Best comedy series nominees were the "Bob Cummings Show," "Caesar's Hour," "Father Knows Best," the Jack Benny and Phil Silvers shows. The Sid Caesar show nominations were for his "Caesar's Hour," which appeared on NBC early last year.

The female nominees for a best personality award included Parr's girl Friday, Dody Goodman, and perennial nominees Gracie Allen, Lucille Ball, Dinah Shore and Loretta Young. Miss Shore won the award last year.

P&LE President Urges Railroad Consolidations

CHICAGO (AP) — A railroad president said Wednesday he favored consolidation of the nation's 220,000 miles of railroads into a limited number of large systems, "no more than 20 as a maximum and preferably a much smaller number."

John W. Barriger, president of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Co., said large-scale consolidations could save the railroads a billion dollars a year.

SRC To Start Expressway Construction

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Roads Commission, stymied by the Legislature in an attempt to build the Northeast Expressway from Baltimore to Aberdeen in one giant step, decided Wednesday to start construction in dribs and drabs.

And at least the first stretch, from the Baltimore City line to the Baltimore County Beltway, will be a free road rather than the toll turnpike the commission had hoped to build to speed construction.

Chairman Robert O. Bonnell and Commissioners J. Edgar Bennett and John McMullen agreed to proceed with as much of the expressway as available federal interstate funds will permit.

About 4 million dollars is available. That would carry it to the beltway, a distance of about 2½ miles and possibly it could be extended slightly farther if interstate highway funds now being considered by Congress come through.

The commission's hopes of building the expressway as a toll road from Baltimore to Aberdeen where an interchange would have connected it to U. S. 40, faded for the time being at least with the death of Senate Bill 115 in the Legislature last week.

Bonnell indicated that the bill was caught in the last minute tax squeeze which snarled the closing days of the regular 30-day session.

Actually, it was advanced to second reading last Thursday and on a test ballot failed by one vote of the necessary 15 majority needed for passage. Sen. James (D) Harford, chief backer of the proposal, decided not to press for passage at this session.

The bill would have authorized the roads commission to issue 38 million dollars worth of 15-year bonds to finance construction of the Northeast Expressway, in whole or in part, as a toll highway.

At the end of 10 or 11 years, Bonnell explained, the commission would have used federal highway funds to pay off the bonds, at which time tolls would have been removed from the expressway. Bonnell said this would have plan for diplomatic preparations saved the state money in the long run and would have shortened construction time for a major portion of the expressway which eventually is to stretch from Baltimore to the Delaware Line, roughly paralleling U. S. 40.

The commission chairman noted the planned construction from Baltimore to Maryland 22 and then east to U. S. 40 at Aberdeen, a distance of about 30 miles, would have been removed from the expressway. President Eisenhower probably would reply to Soviet Premier Bulganin's latest letter within 10 days and may offer further specific proposals on preparations for summit meeting, the spokesman said.

He said the commission had been assured of federal approval for such a financial arrangement, including necessary amendments to the Interstate Highways Act.

Although Dulles, Lloyd and Pineau attended the recent NATO conference in Paris, the meeting was adjourned to a 90-minute conference that they will continue to insist on an East-West foreign ministers meeting as part of the preliminaries. Other diplomatic negotiations also would be held before the summit conference.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The frigate "Constellation," now at Baltimore, is the original gal who sank an American enemy ship no matter how many facelifts she's had.

That's the word from Assistant Secretary of the Navy Richard E. Jackson. He told the Advertising Club of Baltimore Wednesday he had heard reports the Constellation was not the frigate which launched the American Navy in 1776.

Dr. Walter Graham, city controller, had expressed doubts the Constellation was authentic because of several rebuildings.

But Jackson said the number of rebuildings were of no consequence. He used this comparison to prove his point.

Tab On Topers

VIENNA — Hungary's Communist government has called on managers of state-owned bars to report notoriously heavy drinkers. The Budapest newspaper Esti Hirlap said it is part of a campaign to raise morality and cut absenteeism in factories.

Greenland's iccap, a great flat dome crevassed on the edges, covers 700,000 square miles. In some places the ice is more than 10,000 feet thick.

Brainier Children

SMETHWICK, England — Headmaster H. O. Hughes of a local grade school believes "better housing, better schools and improved conditions generally" are producing brainier children in the British welfare state.

On the basis of tests given 11,000 children, he said:

In 1947 only 2.7 per cent of the grade school entrants had an intelligence quotient of more than 125 and 9 per cent had an I.Q. of less than 70. (An I.Q. of 100 is considered average.) Now 11.4 per cent have an I.Q. of more than 125 and only 2.1 per cent have an I.Q. of less than 70.

...from the 75th milestone

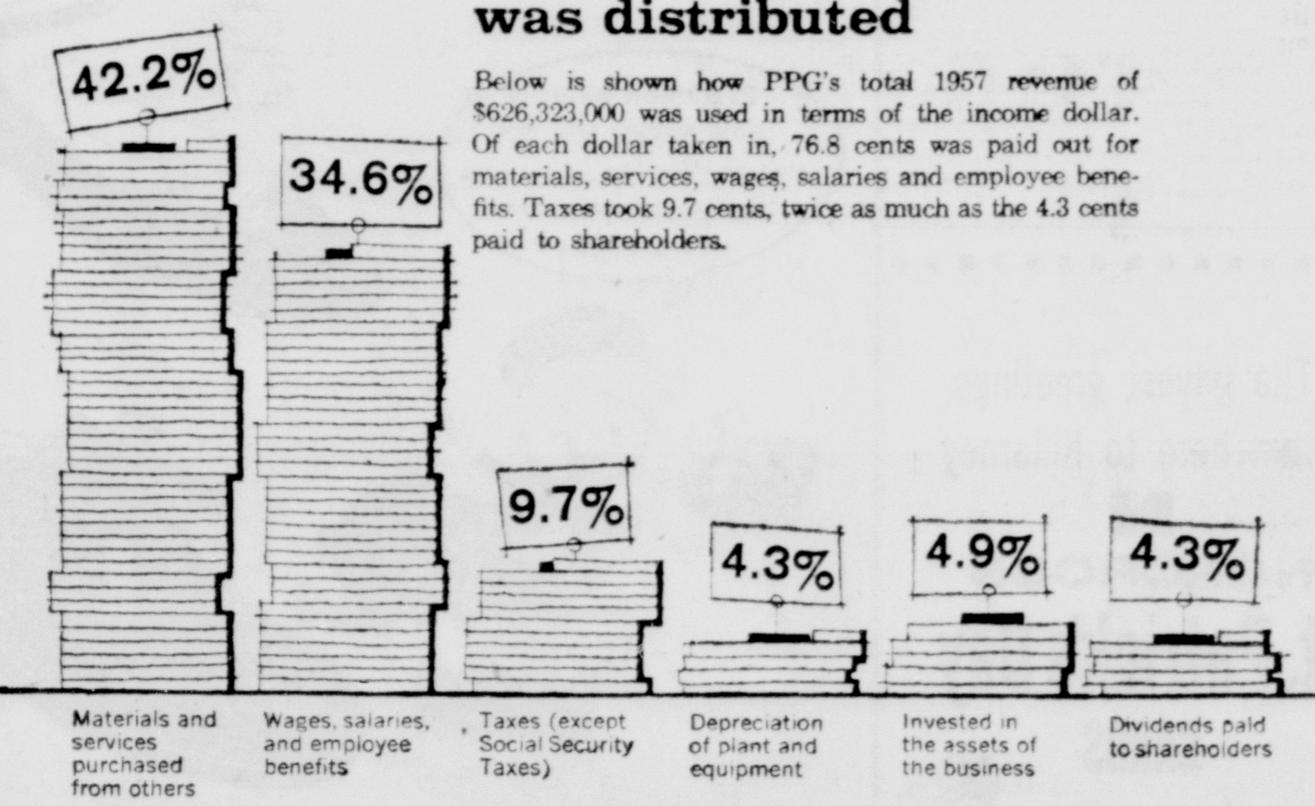

How PPG fared in 1957

In 1957, PPG established a new high in sales for the third successive year. Consolidated net sales of $620,803,000 plus $5,520,000 from investments gave PPG a total revenue of $626,323,000. Notwithstanding the sharp decline in the fourth quarter of 1957, the high level of sales during the first three quarters, made possible by the operation of the newly completed and expanded facilities, accounted for the highest sales in PPG's history.

During 1957 a total of $64,003,000 was spent for expansion, replacement and modernization of manufacturing facilities. Research and engineering development spending, exclusive of capital expenditures, amounted to $12,645,000 in 1957, an increase of more than 200 per cent over ten years ago.

How 1957 revenue was distributed

Below is shown how PPG's total 1957 revenue of $626,323,000 was used in terms of the income dollar. Of each dollar taken in, 76.8 cents was paid out for materials, services, wages, salaries and employee benefits. Taxes took 9.7 cents, twice as much as the 4.3 cents paid to shareholders.

THIS YEAR—1958—Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company observes its 75th Anniversary. Back in 1883 PPG made one product—plate glass—in one plant with 200 employees. Through the years PPG diversified manufacturing operations and set up its own merchandising system. As PPG passes the 75th milestone, it produces glass, paints and brushes, chemicals, fiber glass, metals and other products. Today it has 47 plants and 403 merchandising branches, stores and sales offices in the United States and Canada, 35,300 employees and 20,000 shareholders.

PPG's most valuable asset in recording its many accomplishments is loyal and conscientious people: the people who manage the enterprise; the people who make and sell its products; the people who share ownership. For 75 years "Pittsburgh People" have worked cooperatively to make PPG the symbol of quality and service to millions of Americans.

Looking to the future, PPG is confident that opportunities for the sale of its products will multiply as the general level of business rises. A matter of serious concern, however, is the increasing cost of doing business in the highly competitive markets PPG serves. PPG's future growth is dependent to a great degree upon the cooperation of all employees in conserving manpower and materials and in improving the quantity and quality of production, thereby making it possible for PPG products to compete effectively in the market.

This is particularly true in glass operations which face constantly increasing competition from both foreign and domestic sources paying lower wages than PPG. To emphasize the vital necessity of reducing operating costs, a program called "Operation Understanding" is being carried on in the Glass Division. Employee response to this program has been encouraging—but this is not enough. Significant reductions in the cost of operations must be made, especially through the adoption of more realistic working agreements, if PPG is to continue to provide jobs with good pay for its employees, which add up to substantial payrolls in our plant communities.

1957 WAS IMPORTANT AT WORKS 7

Pittsburgh Plate's new glass plant here went into operation in 1957, and at the end of the year 726 men and women were employed at Works 7 and over $2,839,427 had been paid out in wages and salaries during the year.

Principals Appoint Nominating Committee

A talk, reports and appointment of a nominating committee featured the dinner meeting of the Elementary Principals Association, held Monday evening at Moon's Dining Room.

The table decorations were in keeping with St. Patrick's Day. Green carnations formed the centerpiece, with green tapers in crystal candelabras. Place cards were shamrocks and were done by Mrs. Anne Eberly, a teacher in Virginia Avenue School. Twenty-five members attended.

Dr. Ton van Strien was the speaker for the evening. He was presented by Mrs. Gertrude Collins, principal of Virginia Avenue School, who also gave the invitation. Dr. van Strien, the new health officer for Allegany County, discussed his philosophy and the health program and his plans for the school nursing program. This program, he said, is being coordinated with the Board of Education. At present the nurses assigned to school services are limited, and additional nurses are needed, as well as help for the emotionally disturbed child.

Six principals who attended the Baltimore meeting of state principals, March 3-4, gave brief reports.

The nominating committee was appointed. Miss Catherine Thomas was named chairman. Serving with her are Miss Bernice Werner, Miss Margaret Doak and John Manley.

April 29 was scheduled for the next meeting. Those in charge will be Miss Kathryn Laughlin Corriganville, chairman; Miss Alice McCormick, Lonaconing; Miss Nellie Dowling, Hammond Street; Miss Florence Liller, Luke; Miss Angela Brady, College Lab School; Mr. Manley, Hill Street; and Ray Skidmore, Northeast.

Mrs. Gertrude Collins was chairman for the March meeting. She was assisted by Mrs. Elsie Roland, Miss Loretto McGeady, Miss Agnes Launder, Miss Catherine Longridge and Harold Scott.

Workshop To Be Held March 26

A fiber glass lampshade workshop will be held March 26, Miss Mary P. Wise, home demonstration agent announces. It is to be conducted in Fairview Avenue Methodist Church from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Luncheon will be served by the women of the church.

Those attending are asked to bring an old lamp shade or frame, brown wrapping paper for pattern making, a yardstick, 24 spring club clothes pins, clean rags, scissors, sharp pointed pencils, string and cement.

Miss Wise asks homemakers to prepare for the workshop by taking the cover off the frame, carefully loosen the shade from the wire, for this is to be the pattern; tie wires together if there are top and bottom wires only; pull excess paper from the shade to have smooth edges; open seams carefully, tape any tears; sandpaper and steel wool the wires; and if desired give the wires a coat of white enamel.

She said the state had accepted salary protection insurance, but a beautician must be a member of the local association to be eligible. She also said Mrs. Mamie Scott, Cumberland, and John Taylor, Keyser, gave outstanding styling demonstrations when they, with nine others, participated in the style body demonstra-

Russians Will Trek To Polls Sunday As Trio Of U.S. Observers Looks On

By HAROLD K. MILKS
MOSCOW — Soviet citizens will troop to the polls Sunday to approve a single slate of candidates.

dates chosen for them by the Communist party as their representatives in the Supreme Soviet (Parliament).

This process, which the Soviet constitution calls an election, happens once every four years. This time something new will be added. A trio of official American observers will be looking on.

Under an exchange agreement, three Soviet observers witnessed the 1956 presidential elections in the United States. In turn, the U.S.S.R. invited three Americans, to be selected by the State Department in consultation with a private agency called the U.S. Governmental Affairs Institute, to watch the Russians at their polling places.

The American observers chosen

Plant Spending Drops Sharply

WASHINGTON — Industry's spending on new plant and equipment is falling sharply and may continue downward throughout the year, a private survey indicates. Newsweek magazine will report in its March 17 issue that such capital investment, the most important source of new jobs, may skid to a rate of about $30 billion dollars annually by the year end. The rate was almost $37 billion last summer.

Official government estimates, now close to announcement, also will show a downturn, administration sources say. This fact, as much as the unseasonable February spurt in joblessness, may have contributed to the flurry of anti-recession proposals from the Eisenhower administration.

The Newsweek report is based on a survey of the country's 1,000 biggest manufacturing companies made under the magazine's sponsorship by the National Industrial Conference Board, a private research institution in New York.

Virtually all leading figures in the Soviet regime were nominated by many districts and have chosen which they will represent. Other nominations went to outstanding workers, teachers, scientists, soldiers and professional people. They were selected by mass meetings in factories, farms, universities and military units.

Nikita S. Khrushchev, first secretary — boss — of the ruling Communist party, was named from more than 100 districts, far more than any other candidate. He chose to be seated in the Council of the Union as a Moscow district deputy.

Far down the list of favorites was Premier Nikolai Bulganin, ranking 12th among the leading candidates, with only eight nominations to his credit. Khrushchev's nearest rivals were Klement Voroshilov, now president of the Parliament's Presidium; Deputy Premier Anastase I. Mikoyan; Alexei Kirichenko, Communist boss in the Ukraine; and Mikhail Suslov, a Communist party secretary.

Bulgarian represented an important Moscow district in the retiring Council of Nationalities. He will be named to the new one from the remote Maikop district of the northern Caucasus.

The voters will be given ballots bearing a single slate of "communist and nonparty bloc" candidates. They have no choice, since no opposition is permitted. However, there will be a big turnout. In 1954, it was 99.98 per cent of all eligible, who were the targets of intensive propaganda from party workers assigned to get out the votes.

Jobless Pay Claims Show Drop In State

Decrease Not As Great As Expected

BALTIMORE (AP)—Claims for unemployment payments in Maryland dropped some last month, the Department of Employment Security reported Wednesday. But the decrease, it said, was not as substantial as normally expected for February.

"Despite the small decrease," the department said, "unemployment in Maryland continued to be heavy and was well above that of February of last year."

Unemployment checks during the month dropped slightly below the record-breaking levels of January, but Executive Director Robert B. Kimble said the drop was due solely to February being a short month.

Payments amounted to $5,839,083 during the 28 days of February, compared with $5,925,460 for the 31 days of last January. 2

The department issued 192,529 checks during last month, compared with 71,539 jobless payments during February of last year.

Initial claims filed with the department during February totaled 28,021, as against 12,084 during February, 1957.

Williamsport Span Toll-Free At End Of Month

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Williamsport Bridge, connecting Washington County with West Virginia will become toll-free April 1.

Kimble said unemployment during the month was associated with temporary and indefinite layoffs particularly in transportation equipment manufacturing, apparel industries, construction, primary metals, seafood and food processing.

"The major reason for new layoffs cited by employers in reports to the department continued to be reduced production," Kimble's statement said.

"Bad weather during the month, particularly the blizzard of Feb. 15-16, curtailed outside activities even more than is usual in this season. Seasonal factors were also operating in the apparel industry, although the number of layoffs and the number of persons working shorter work-weeks have exceeded the seasonal norm."

Kimble said a much greater proportion of persons was unemployed indefinitely—for more than 30 days—February than in the previous month, when many post-holiday layoffs and furloughs were only for one or two weeks.

Unemployed federal workers in Maryland received $166,966 in unemployment payments last month, an increase of 515.9 per cent over February, 1957. The number of checks issued—5,008—was up 415.8 per cent over the previous February.

Surgeons Elect

BALTIMORE (AP)—Dr. B. T. Beasley, Atlanta surgeon who helped organize the Southeastern Surgical Congress 28 years ago, was elected president for 1960 at the annual business meeting today.

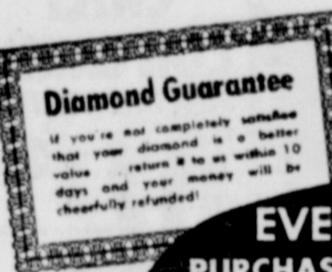

Dr. Murray Copeland of Washington, elected last year as president for 1959, took over at the close of the meeting from Dr. Howard Mahorner of New Orleans.

Sales Of Easter Animals Rapped

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—The Baltimore County Humane Society, deluged each year after Easter with sick and dying chicks and ducks, urged parents Wednesday not to buy Easter animals for their children.

Society officials said they still have 30 ducks on hand from last Easter.

One duck, kept in a shoe box five months, died soon after being brought to the society farm, a staff member said. The duck had grown so large it nearly filled the shoe box. It was unable to walk when taken from the container.

Mrs. Edgar Gretzinger suggested that Maryland pass a law to prevent the indiscriminate sale of

Faculty Group Gets Student Editor Case

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—A University of Maryland faculty committee on publications will meet next week to consider disciplinary action against the editor of the university's student magazine Old Line.

Tina Fragale was placed on probation Tuesday after university officials complained that the humor magazine's latest issue contained objectionable material.

Miss Fragale, however, said she did not consider the jokes and articles in the issue were "particularly" objectionable. She said her fellow students were "raving about" it.

Frost Damage To Area Roads Being Checked

State and county road crews are beginning their annual battle against frost damage to the surfaces of the highways.

J. Walker Chapman, Allegany County Roads Department supervisor, said a number of county roads have been damaged by the most severe winter weather in over a decade. The extent of the damage is being ascertained by the crews, he added, while some patching is undertaken.

And R. E. L. Putman, maintenance engineer for District 6 of the State Roads Commission, said Washington County has been the hardest hit of the three-county district which includes Allegany and Garrett counties.

There he said, the frost left the ground very rapidly. But in Allegany County, where a gradual thawing took place, damage was practically nil, he added.

There still is some frost in the ground in Garrett County where the road surfaces have been affected.

Putman did say there was extensive heaving of the roads there, but the surfaces did not break into what are termed frost boils.

This is particularly true of Route 495 from Lake's Service Station to Swanton and from Swanton to Bittinger, and also on Route 36 near Kitzmiller, he added.

All the small potholes appearing in the district are kept patched, he explained.

Chapman said the soft spots in county dirt roads are being patched by crusher run stone.

He said while the major repair work is being held up until warmer weather, the crews are determining the roads needing fixing.

To date it has been learned that frost has caused damage to Mason Road, and Parkside Boulevard and First Street in LaVale, among others.

Methodist Group Sets Meeting

Dr. Mary Alice Douty of Baltimore, executive secretary of the Conference Board of Education of the Methodist Church, will conduct a meeting in adult education for churches of the area Friday, March 21, at 6:30 p. m. in LaVale Methodist Church.

C. B. Pardew, superintendent of Kingsley Methodist Church School, Cumberland, is in charge of arrangements. The event will begin with a dinner.

Purpose of the meeting is to develop a vital Christian education among adults in church schools. Demonstration teaching, evaluation and discussion will be featured.

Fifty-eight churches are expected to be represented.

Vegetable Growers Meet Here Today

A meeting of area vegetable growers will be held today at 1 p. m. at the Court House.

Dr. C. W. Reynolds, vegetable specialist at the University of Maryland, will discuss proper fertilization of vegetables and new varieties available.

A talk on chemical control of weeds and insects will be given by Dr. Roy Kriner, of the Central Chemical Company. He was formerly connected with Cornell University.

A general discussion on vegetable growing problems will follow.

Frostburg Man Is Named Assistant SRC Engineer

George Geary, 107 Walnut Street, Frostburg, has been promoted to assistant engineer in Allegany and Garrett counties.

A native of Frostburg, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Geary, 208 Glenn Street. He was graduated from Beall High School in 1937.

From 1940 to 1947 he was with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads in Virginia and North Carolina on the Blue Ridge Parkway. His service with this federal agency was interrupted by three and one-half years duty in the Army during World War II as a survey sergeant for a field artillery battalion. For a period in 1947 he was with the Allegany County Roads Department.

In his new position, Geary will have charge of all highway construction in Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties. Chaires noted.

Geary has been with the State Roads Commission since March 1948 when he was employed as a road inspector.

For the past five years he has

Election Board Attorney Seeks Delegate Seat

John M. Robb, LaVale, local attorney, who has announced his candidacy for nomination to the House of Delegates on the Republican ticket in the May 20 primary, is serving as attorney to the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors.

He is a 1931 graduate of Allegany High School and received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Maryland and his bachelor of laws degree from the university's School of Law in 1938.

Robb was admitted to the Maryland bar in 1939. During World War II, he served two years in the China-Burma-India Theatre of Operations as a staff sergeant with the Army. Since his war service, he has practiced law in Cumberland.

He is chairman of the Allegany County Chapter of the National of the Cumberland Junior Association for Infantile Paralysis, a position he has held for eight years.

Robb is also a member of the board of directors of the Allegany Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, County League for Crippled Children.

He is a past exalted ruler of the Cumberland Lodge 63, BPO Elks; past president of the Cumberland Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Meeting Today To Discuss County Health Rules

A meeting will be held today at 9:30 a.m. at the Health Center in the Union Street County Building with the county commissioners discussing with Dr. Tom van Strien, health officer, the proposed regulations on eating and drinking establishments.

Copies of the proposed regulations on sanitation requirements for such places have been in the hands of the commissioners for several weeks. Some changes in the regulations have been suggested by the commissioners.

The meeting is being held to determine the final form of the resolution adopting the new regulations.

Robb was admitted to the Maryland bar in 1939. During World War II, he served two years in the China-Burma-India Theatre of Operations as a staff sergeant with the Army. Since his war service, he has practiced law in Cumberland.

He is chairman of the Allegany County Chapter of the National of the Cumberland Junior Association for Infantile Paralysis, a position he has held for eight years.

GOP Candidate For Delegate Gives Views

In announcing he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for House of Delegates, Jonathan Sleeman, Frostburg, cited his experience as a worker and small businessman. His statement follows:

"On Friday, March 7, I filed the necessary papers in order to become a candidate, subject to the Republican primaries, to the House of Delegates of the General Assembly of Maryland.

"I have been a life-long resident of Allegany County and have always been interested in the public and civic affairs of the County. I am engaged in business in Frostburg, and I feel that my experience in life as an ordinary worker and also as a small businessman enables me to represent the viewpoint of the average citizen.

"I think everyone today is more and more conscious of the rapidly rising costs of government, which necessarily means more and more burdensome taxes. We have already reached the point where I cannot help but feel that, if these excessive costs are to be stopped and reduced, the several departments of the state must be completely overhauled and recognized. I realize that no one member of the House of Delegates could accomplish this. Nevertheless, it can only be accomplished by the election of members of the House who have sufficient courage and conviction to resist the pressures of bureaucrats, and with the fixed determination to restore the government back into the hands of the people.

"I have already served four years in the House of Delegates, and consequently have the experience and knowledge to enable me to go to work immediately, if elected, toward accomplishing these ends."

National parks and forests in the United States provide some 20 thousand summer time jobs, half of them filled by vacationing school and college teachers and students.

Advanced First Aid Course To Be Held Tonight

An advanced first aid course will be offered by Casualty Station 1, Civil Defense, in South End today at 7:30 p.m. in the Cumberland Savings Bank, according to Arnold Robertson, who is in charge of the station.

He said 25 persons who just completed the standard first aid course have registered for the advanced training.

He urged members of the casualty station and others to have their advanced first aid cards renewed for another three years by completing this course.

The instructor for the Red Cross is Robert Thwaites, he added.

Forestry experts list the 10 palm, almond, apple, fig, mulberry, most important trees in the berry, olive, lemon, chinchona world as the date palm, coconut and rubber trees.

Remembering What Is Really Important

One of the most interesting, if not startling, characteristics a completely independent observer—such as someone from another planet—would note about Americans in mid-Twentieth Century is their mercurial tendency to shift from one extreme to another. The shift in public thinking in the past two months illustrates this point.

In January, the whole country was worried about the Sputnik and the dramatic revelation of America's lag in missile research, the deficiencies of the U. S. educational system, the gains being made in Asia and Africa by Russia.

Then the Army's satellite, the Explorer, was launched. Complacency set in immediately. Next the economists were worrying aloud about business conditions. Then the politicians took up the cry and raced to get in the lead of public opinion. Following this, the decadillos of members of the Federal Communications Commission became top headlines.

As a result, the programs that seemed "musts" for Congress at the turn of the year have been shunted into the background, and are either dying or lying dormant.

It is unfortunate that the American people lack the stability to keep their eyes on the long-term problems that need attention. As a refresher, the most obvious of these are:

1. The need for a solid, effective reorganization of the U. S. military establishment in keeping with the demands of the missile-jet space age.

2. The need for undergirding and extending the alliances that are principal bulwarks against Communist aggression.

3. The need for revitalizing American education to encourage the development of talented youngsters in all fields.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Doctors

Recognizing that half a century ago one who had my physical troubles did not long survive them, how can I worry about the fact that doctors, like the rest of us, charge for their services? When I have quarreled with them, it has not been about the bills. Considering that I am alive and able to do my work every day, as thousands of others are who have heart ailments, I am sure that an undertaker would have charged more with less satisfactory results.

I write this because I have been reading a general condemnation of doctors as a class. That is about as sensible as condemning lawyers, clergymen, teachers, businessmen or labor leaders as a class. Even in my own profession, there are persons who are not so perfect. Of course, there are bad apples among them, just as Lucifer was once an angel. But if we are to generalize, without prejudice, the medical profession, on the whole, has done more for humanity, on a smaller return, than any other professional group.

If the medical staff of our hospitals had to be paid wages for all the work the physicians and surgeons do free of charge, on the assumption that they are everlastingly learning and that in their profession the best way to learn is by doing — no hospital would have sufficient funds to operate.

One day I needed a doctor urgently. The man who came was young, engaging, obviously starting life. He charged me a few dollars. He became our family doctor. The years pass and this doctor decides that he wants to work in an experimental field. He takes a year off, actually depriving himself and his family of income. He writes a book, becoming a specialist and devoting the greatest share of his waking time to continued experimental work.

When I was in the hospital, I realized how much time he spent with his rats in the laboratory. I was then not his patient but a friend. I had been handed over to strangers whom I did not know but I can say this that the great man who was brought in to determine whether I was alive or dead and who, my wife told me, stayed two and a half hours before it could be decided, only charged $100 for the visit. Had a wrong diagnosis been made that night, I would now be kicking up croupes in a cemetery. My troubles were like that.

I know a country general practitioner who does at least 100 miles a day in his car, summer or winter, in heat or in snow. I have known him to drive a suffering man 18 or 20 miles to a hospital at 80 or 90 miles an hour, once burning out the motor of a new car to do it. I have known him during the winter to motor to a university 40 or 50 miles away to take a refresher course, let us say, concerning the heart, so that he can take care of the summer patients some of whom have heart troubles. The farmers pay him what they can. Sometimes they pay in things they grow because money is scarce. Some do not pay at all. The town contributes a certain amount, very small, because he is the town health officer. So highly is he regarded that some summer patients insist upon paying New York rates. He is a competent man.

Why have I had such good fortune to encounter men who have not charged me more than their services were worth? Compare the total cost of cigarettes or cosmetics or pleasures during the year to the charge of a surgeon who every time he has to cut a stomach knows that the risk is extraordinarily great and that each operation takes a toll of his own nervous system. For every doctor knows that while the operation may be a success, the patient may die of side causes.

Whenever I am in a hospital, I am a trying patient because I am in a hurry to get back to my normal life. Also there are habits and habits in this profession which irk me. Also I hate hospital food. But let us face it: I am alive because a few dedicated human beings work day and night to discover how to keep such as me alive. To me, their services are cheap at any price. It takes all. Let those who complain of bills look to their own charges.

'Now We Are One'

'Greek Chorus' Separates: Hail And Farewell

WASHINGTON

At the end of this month, the above joint by-line, the symbol of a long and happy, brotherly partnership, will cease to appear in its accustomed place. For various highly practical reasons, it has become desirable to divide the functions of newspaper reporting and magazine writing which our partnership has always combined.

A parting in which personal feelings pull one way and practicality pushes the other way is always a sentimental business. So maybe it is sheer sentimentality on our parts, to want to mark the announcement of this oncoming parting with a sort of retrospect of our twelve years and more of work together.

We formed our partnership when we had barely put our wartime uniforms in mothballs, in the first peacetime months of the first Truman administration. If you want a measure of how incredibly long ago that was, there is the odd fact that we ran into our first trouble as columnists because of insufficient faith in the high and noble purposes of the Soviet Union.

The first Azerzaipanian crisis was just on the horizon; and in analyzing Stalin's grab for Persia, we followed the line of the exceptionally brilliant Soviet experts that the government had in those days. One of them is in exile now; another has been driven from the public service; and we now seem to rely on the Secretary of State's direct wire to the Almighty for the functions the experts used to perform. But that is another subject.) Having followed the line of our expert friends, we were denounced as hard-nosed, maliciously anti-Soviet pessimists by an impeccably Republican publisher of great importance to us, who later indulged in more than a little appeasement.

This is stretching the value of nutrition too far. White bread never killed anyone, nor does it cause susceptibility to fatal illnesses. The father may have died of tuberculosis, cancer, heart trouble, or other disease unrelated to the highly refined and bleached flour used in white bread.

The author of a recent book tells of visiting a family in mourning for the death of the 38 year old father. The author was horrified at the sight of the children, seated at the table, eating white bread. She concluded that the mother is "nutritionally ignorant" and had killed the father, even though she loved him; "there on the table we're polishing no name-plates when we approve of our multilateral coalition of forty small nations.

It will be different from 1941 when Shickelgruber dropped 'em one at a time like an egg candler with palsy.

Instead of a free-for-all it is actually an elimination tournament.

Auto Industry Needs Tax Relief More Than Insurance Companies

By Drew Pearson

Decorating Binge On Guam

WASHINGTON — It will be extremely interesting to see what happens to Sen. Clinton Anderson's drive to let distressed industries get tax concessions similar to that urged for the undistressed insurance companies.

The New Mexico Democrat, himself an insurance man, has warned colleagues:

"We have been told in the past that we cannot go at tax revision on a piecemeal basis. Yet now the life insurance companies, which have one of the finest lobbies in Washington, come along and want piecemeal legislation which would give them tax concessions of $124,000,000."

"The insurance business is booming. If they are going to get piecemeal legislation, why not some piecemeal legislation for the auto industry, which is in a slump? Why not remove the excise tax on cars? Henry Ford says this would help the industry and I think he's right."

Anderson also proposes that if the insurance companies are going to get piecemeal tax relief, there be piecemeal legislation giving personal tax exemption of $650 to each family, plus removal of the transportation tax, plus a lowering of the rate on the first $1,000 of earned income to help small taxpayers.

It will be interesting to see how Senate leaders, who have been urging measures to revive the economy, operate backstage for or against the big life insurance companies.

The whole job required two weeks of sweating toil by Navy personnel and cost the taxpayers around $1,500. Since Guam is a coral island, jackhammers had to be used to drill holes big enough to accommodate the replanted trees.

The admiral's lady also has engaged in rather extensive interior decorating. She has had her living room and sun-parlor furniture done over at least three times—at an estimated $2,000. When Guam merchants couldn't supply some of the reupholstery material she wanted, she had the material flown from a New York department store. The bill came to around $225, plus $80 for air express.

Lamps From Hong Kong

Mrs. Ammon also wanted some ornate, oriental lamps, which were not stocked by Guam merchants or the naval exchange. She bought them in Hong Kong. She also had the Navy put in an electric dryer and dishwasher in her quarters.

It took six months for the government to finish equipping and remodeling her quarters, at an estimated cost of over $10,000. This included an expensive Chinese lattice-work partition between the living and dining rooms. The Ammons also went in for a sizable gardening and renovating program around the officers' club, the admiral's guest house, and his office. Refurnishing, painting, etc., ran to over $20,000. These improvements all became property of the Navy and were not in violation of regulations. However, the decorating splurge did not make for good morale among other naval personnel on Guam.

Before the Ammons moved in, there were four gardeners serving the homes of the admiral and staff officers on "Flag Circle." Two would have been enough. But Mrs. Ammon coaxed her husband into increasing the gardening crew to six. Total cost to the taxpayers is about $18,000.

Navy friends say the vivacious Mrs. Ammon can talk her husband into compliance with most of her desires, though she frequently uses the direct approach and gives the orders herself.

Averell Looks Ahead

It's a long time between now and the 1960 Presidential convention, but Governor Harriman of New York is already trying to make a secret compact with California Democrats to control the convention.

He has sent word to Pat Brown, Democratic candidate for governor of California, and to Paul Ziffren, Democratic committeeman in Los Angeles, that the two biggest states in the Union, New York and California, have enough delegates to dominate the convention if they stick together.

Harriman did not ask the Californians to support him for President. What he wanted was a pact to guarantee a liberal Democratic platform on such problems as school integration and labor. He also wants to make sure that the south does not pick the Democratic candidates.

This move is more important than appears on the surface. It means that liberal northern governors, including "Soapy" Williams of Michigan, Bob Meyer of New Jersey, plus Democratic leaders in Pennsylvania and Illinois, can just about dominate the Democratic convention.

The fact that some of them are working at it this early is significant.

The American Legion

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK, March 12—(INS)

—The American Legion will be 39 years old this weekend, which is surely reason enough to interview its good-looking national commander, Jack Gleason.

"One of the things I'd like to get across to the American people while I'm in office is that we're not a treasury-robbing organization," the Chicago banker told us. "We favor pensions for only the needy veteran, the man who can't make more than $1,150 a year. He's eligible for a $955 pension each year. Of course, there are a few chiselers in every outfit. We had a recent case of a veteran with a $10,000-a-year income putting everything in his wife's name and then taking the $955. We'll get rid of that kind by changing the law to make a married veteran list his wife's income, like the tax people do."

"We're doing something about lapsing insurance, too. Of the 22,000,000 service people who took out GI insurance in World War II and the Korean War, 17,000 let it drop—though it was the cheapest insurance in the world. Now we've got a Pacific Coast company to agree to reinsure those people for $12 a year, straight life, which will give them up to $4,000, depending on age. The average World War II veteran is now 37.5 years old; the Korean veteran 30.

The Legion is all for the Cordiner plan, the professional armed force. It would cost the country a lot of money for a few years but save billions thereafter. It would provide better living conditions all along the line and replace the old seniority system with the merit plan.

"The country spends as much as $40,000 training a man to operate, let's say, a radar in a B-52, then quits when his time is up and takes a job in a factory. This means I must live like a hermit?"

Candidate's Eligibility Questioned

OAKLAND — A question on the eligibility of a Garrett County man to be a candidate for the Senate has been broached.

Ross Speicher, who is a Church of the Brethren minister, has filed his candidacy for the Senate from Garrett County. Speicher was pastor of a Brethren church near Meyersdale until he resigned the post some time ago.

The Constitution of Maryland states that no minister or preacher of the Gospel is eligible to sit in the Senate or House of the General Assembly. There is an either provision which states that the Senate is the sole judge in the seating of a person elected to that body.

Speicher said yesterday he is aware of the situation and "as of now my name is still on file as a candidate subject to the Republican primary." Speicher has until Saturday to withdraw if he wishes.

Speicher said that for the past 20 years he has been engaged in the insurance business on a six-day per week basis.

Candidates for the Republican nomination are Clifford B. Friend, the incumbent, Russell L. Smith, and Harvey D. Swartzentruber. Swartzentruber is a member of the Garrett County Board of Commissioners. Smith is mayor of Oakland.

The condition of streets in Homewood Addition was brought to attention of the council and the mayor appointed Harold Shaffer, Ona Hovatter and William Barrick to investigate and work out a plan to correct the condition.

Mayor Kenney presented a statement from Duke's Plumbing and Heating Shop for services rendered in thawing water lines at the Dr. Morris property, Charles Buchanan property, the Post property and V. B. Linn's. There being no work order approved by the council the statement was returned.

The city curfew was again discussed and the council decided to have the city police strictly enforce the ordinance, allowing one hour after the curfew time of 9 p.m. as ample time to reach home in any part of town. This ordinance will be effective and strictly enforced after March 13, 1958.

The matter of Daylight Saving Time was discussed. However, only about one-third of the votes for or against daylight saving time have been received and final action was postponed until the next regular meeting on April 4.

First Cabinet Produced At Moorefield Plant

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—The first cabinet was produced at a model home in a housing development at Vienna, Va. A total of three Raygold kitchen cabinet installations will be made in model homes for public inspection and orders for 300, to be delivered at the rate of 25 per month, have been confirmed.

Ralph Sinnin, foreman from one of the Long Island plants, has been at the Moorefield plant all this week assisting in getting the local plant in operation for production. Paint spray units with the attendant booths, exhaust fans and ducts, are being installed in the newer quonset type building and a conveyor system will be fitted for automatic operation of the line.

Most of the basic machinery, the jigs, dies, presses, heating platens, saws, sanders, routers and pointers are in place in the main production building and are being adjusted and regulated for an assembly line production.

A few additional workers have been put on and more workers will be called as needed and as the plant goes into full operation.

Alvin Goldshus, president of the Raygold Manufacturing Corporation, indicated that additional products were being considered for production at the Moorefield plant as soon as regular production difficulties on Raygold's Dimensional kitchens are smoothed out.

Big Don Moran poured in 29 points and the Old Germans romped to an easy 92-54 conquest of the Moose last night at Fort Hill gym to even the best-of-three final series in the City Basketball League playoffs at one game apiece.

In the windup of regular season play Chaney's edged the Knights of Columbus, 68-62, to dump the Caseys into the cellar in the second half race. The game was played as a preliminary to last night's title contest.

The Old Gees victory extends the playoffs to the limit with the two teams meeting again tonight at 8 o'clock at the Fort Hill gym. There will be no preliminary to tonight's championship clash.

The Moose, winners of the first game of the series on Monday by a 76-65 margin, were no match for the Old Germans last night after the first quarter. The visitors led 3-0 before Fritz Showers converted a pair of fouls for the Moose. Don Lilly's foul for the Moose knotted the count at 5-5 before a set shot by Lou Bell put the Germans ahead again. Bell, moments later, broke a 7-7 deadlock with a layup and the victors were never again headed.

The winners increased their margin to 37-22 at intermission after leading 14-10 at the quarter. The third quarter ended with the Germans on top by 30 points, 65-35.

Besides Moran's 29 points, the Old Gees were aided by Jim Eckard with 19 and Hoppy Crabtree with 15. Best for the Moose was Showers with 19 tallies.

Mike Zollner scored a three-point play to put Chaney's ahead 53-52 in the fourth quarter of their battle with the Knights and the victors slowly increased the margin in the nip-and-tuck tilt. Best for the victors was Willard Abe with 16 points while Paul Ackerman led the Knights with 22. The lineups:

NIT Begins 21st Annual Post-Season Jamboree Tonight

Top-Seeded Teams Idle Till Tuesday

St. John's, Butler,
St. Peter's And St.
Joseph's In Openers

By The Associated Press

Manhattan College's resounding upset of West Virginia's No. 1 ranked Mountaineers still was the talk of the basketball world as the National Invitation Tournament joined the post-season jamboree with the opening of its 21st meet Thursday.

Coaches of underdog teams in the NIT and elsewhere gleefully pointed to unranked Manhattan's 89-84 conquest of West Virginia Tuesday night in the NCAA's eastern regional eliminations and told their players "you can do it too."

NIT history is spiced with championships won by Cinderella teams and it wouldn't be too surprising if defending champion Bradley and topseeded Dayton, the co-favorites in the 12-team Madison Square Garden Tourney in New York were knocked off.

That can't happen—if it does—until next Tuesday at the earliest, however. Dayton (23-3), Bradley (20-6), St. Bonaventure (19-4), and Utah (20-6) were all seeded and drew first round byes. Dayton and Bradley don't play until Tuesday night.

Double Headers Saturday

The NIT's opening doubleheader tonight matches St. John's of Brooklyn (16-6) and Butler (16-9), and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia (17-8) and St. Peter's of Jersey City (20-3).

Doubleheaders Saturday afternoon and night and Tuesday night will cut the field down to semifinal size. The semifinals are slated for Thursday night, March 20, and the finals for Saturday afternoon, March 22.

Here's how the schedule of first rounders and quarter-finals goes after tonight's openers:

Saturday afternoon, March 15—Niagara (18-6) vs Xavier of Cincinnati (15-11), and Utah vs Butler-St. John's winner.

Saturday night, March 15—Fordham (14-8) vs St. Francis of Loretto, Pa. (20-4), and St. Bonaventure vs St. Joseph's-St. Peter's 43.

Tuesday night, March 18—Bradley vs Niagara-Xavier winner, and Dayton vs Fordham-St. Francis winner.

NCAA Plays Friday

The sprawling NCAA major college eliminations finally got down to recognizable size with the completion of the Far Western Regional first rounders Wednesday. Wyoming played Seattle for the right to meet San Francisco, and Idaho State and Arizona State battled for the privilege of facing California, in the two-day regionals at San Francisco, Friday and Saturday.

The pairings in the other regional NCAA tourneys Friday and Saturday were:

Eastern at Charlotte, N. C.—Maryland (21-6) vs Temple (24-2); Manhattan (16-8) vs Dartmouth (21-4).

Mideast at Lexington, Ky.—Kentucky (19-6) vs Miami (Ohio) (18-7), Notre Dame (23-4) vs Indiana (12-10).

Midwest at Lawrence, Kan.—Oklahoma State (20-7) vs Arkansas (18-8), Kansas State (20-3) vs Cincinnati (24-2).

The winners of the four regional meets will battle it out for the championship, won by undefeated North Carolina last year, at Louisville, Ky., March 21-22.

Larker's Single Wins In Ninth

VERO BEACH, Fla. (F)—Norm Larker's single scored Bob Lillis with two out in the ninth Wednesday and gave the Los Angeles Dodgers their second straight victory over the Milwaukee Braves, 4-3.

Danny McDevitt, starting Los Angeles pitcher, gave a brilliant 4-inning performance. Not a Brave reached first base, and the southpaw fanned four of the first five batters. He struck out seven in all.

The Dodgers hammered Joe Jay, starting Milwaukee pitcher, for four hits, including doubles by Bob Lillis and Carl Furlillo, in the first two innings. Los Angeles scored once in each of the first three innings and again in the ninth.

Hank Aaron and Ed Mathews hit home runs for Milwaukee. Aaron was a solo drive over the left field embankment and Mathews cleared the centerfield levee with Melvin Roach on base.

Pitching Strong Point

The Braves' pitching is a strong point for another pennant. In Lew Burdette, the Yankee tamer; Bob Buhl, Warren Spahn and giant Gene Conley, the Braves have a top foursome.

Then there is Rush, whose record is .500.

Among those who will get a good shot are Joey Jay, one-time bonus beauty pitcher who had a 17-10 record with Wichita; Carlton Willey, who was 21-6 at Wichita.

Others to be watched are infielder Kendall Wise, who came over in the trade with Chicago, and outfielders Lee Maye, up from Jacksonville; Ray Shearer, who had a good year at Wichita; Al Spangler, up from Jacksonville, has plenty of promise and Haney says he will be given a real workout.

30-Foot Eagle Putt By Casper Wins Open Title

Ken Venturi Bows
At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Billy Casper, who doesn't believe in wasting his best golf in practice, dropped a putt of "roughly 30 feet" for an eagle three and a victory over Ken Venturi in a sudden death playoff Wednesday for the $20,000 New Orleans Open Golf title.

The 26-year-old Apple Valley, Calif., pro sank his winning shot on the 477-yard second hole. The victory was worth $2,000 to Casper, who limits his pre-tournament practice to nine holes. It also was his first tournament appearance since illness sent him home in January.

Venturi, of San Francisco, who came from behind with a 66 on the final 18 Tuesday, won $1,900. Rain, which delayed the start of the tournament three days, played a part in the finish.

After Venturi and Casper ended the 72 holes Tuesday tied at 278, officials set up an 18-hole playoff. But showers began to fall at the starting time and officials shortened the playoff to nine holes. When the rain became harder, the change to a sudden death basis was agreed on.

Venturi and Casper split the first hole of the playoff, each posting par fours on the 393-yard hole.

On the second and final hole, Venturi, shooting first, and Casper sent their drives about an equal distance down the fairway. But then things changed. Venturi's second shot landed in the trap. Casper's hit the green and stopped about 30 feet from the pin.

Venturi seemed on the verge of recovering and gaining a split when he lobbed his third shot to within a foot and a half of the hole. But Casper ended it moments later by rolling his third shot straight into the cup.

Beall Starts Track Drills

Calhoun's Thindlads To Vie In Six Meets

Candidates for Beall High School's track and field team will report for their first practice today, according to Coach Gerard P. Calhoun, who is making his debut as track mentor at the Frostburg school.

Initial practice will be spent in conditioning exercises and drills, working on "starting" form, fundamentals of the various field events and "time trials" runs.

Beall expects to participate in six meets this year as follows:

April 10—Triangular meet with Keyser and Ridgeley at Frostburg.

April 17—Dual meet with Allegany at Frostburg.

April 24—Dual meet with Fort Hill at Frostburg.

May 3—Fort Hill Invitational at Cumberland.

May 10—Allegany County Sr. High meet.

May 17—Beall High Invitational.

May 24—State Meet at College Park.

Coach Calhoun plans to invite six area schools from West Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania to compete and revive the Beall High Invitational meet which was held for several years. Holdovers from last year's squad include Dick Plummer and Bob Plummer.

15,000 Trees To Be Planted Near Lake Koon

Officials of the Evitts Creek Water Company were told yesterday that 15,000 trees will be planted this spring on the city's watershed in the Lake Koon area.

George M. Hitchcock, superintendent, reported the trees will be secured next month from Pennsylvania's Mt. Alto Nursery.

Varieties will include 5,000 each of white pine, Banks pine and Norway spruce.

The two and three-year old trees will be planted near the west bank of Lake Koon with equipment supplied by the Maryland Forestry Department.

Officials were told the company has acquired several parcels of land on the watershed at tax sales. The area will be planted to trees to cut erosion and extend the life of the two big reservoirs.

Former mayor Thomas S. Pest was elected president of the Evitts Creek Water Company, the Pennsylvania corporation which owns and operates the city's water storage and treatment facilities.

Mayor Roy W. Eves was elected vice president of the company and James Twigg, a member of the Water Department office staff, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Charles Koontz, Bedford, solicitor, is a director of the company and Mrs. Josephine Edwards, water commissioner, an ex-officio director.

Officers were elected yesterday afternoon at the annual meeting held in the office of Mayor Eves.

Fire Officers To Meet

Officers of the LaVale Fire Company and the ladies auxiliary will meet at 8 p.m. Sunday at the fire hall. Interested members of both organizations are invited to attend.

Residents of the Elder Street area reported children there obtained carbide and were exploding it in glass jars, scattering glass in the area.

Theodore R. Day, Golden Lane, reported someone stole a tool box containing about $10 worth of tools. The box and part of the tools were recovered from a second-hand dealer.

Police were informed yesterday that $106 had been taken from the safe at the Strand Theatre and that approximately $20 in cash was stolen from the Cumberland Cloak and Suit Company.

Authorities said the intruder at the children's clothing store on Baltimore Street entered the building by using a sidewalk elevator. The cash register was broken open and $20 in bills and change taken, police said.

Charles Koontz, Bedford, solicitor, is a director of the company and Mrs. Josephine Edwards, water commissioner, an ex-officio director.

Residents of the Elder Street area reported children there obtained carbide and were exploding it in glass jars, scattering glass in the area.

Theodore R. Day, Golden Lane, reported someone stole a tool box containing about $10 worth of tools. The box and part of the tools were recovered from a second-hand dealer.

Police were informed yesterday that $106 had been taken from the safe at the Strand Theatre and that approximately $20 in cash was stolen from the Cumberland Cloak and Suit Company.

Authorities said the intruder at the children's clothing store on Baltimore Street entered the building by using a sidewalk elevator. The cash register was broken open and $20 in bills and change taken, police said.

Charles Koontz, Bedford, solicitor, is a director of the company and Mrs. Josephine Edwards, water commissioner, an ex-officio director.

Officers were elected yesterday afternoon at the annual meeting held in the office of Mayor Eves.

isolation which will affect Maryland pocketbooks.

One of these was a hangover from the 1957 session, the bill to give teachers and their superiors pay increases averaging an estimated $400 a year. Vetoed by Gov. Mckeldin, it was enacted over his objections early in the session. Although the galleries were packed by parent-teacher groups for the occasion, the measure actually met little opposition on the floor and became law by overwhelming majorities.

Economic Bill Dies

An economy bill described by Senate Majority Leader Turnbull (D-Baltimore County) as "the most important single piece of legislation in this session" cleared the Senate but died in the House Ways and Means Committee. It would have earmarked any surplus over five million dollars for reduction of state property taxes, which are used solely to finance the construction of new buildings and other capital improvements.

But the lawmakers, taking a cue from budget cutters who lopped a record 7½-million dollars from the state's spending, voted to apply the governor's spending proposals to the budget, leaving a batch of bills designed to save the state money.

These facts," the CAB said, "warrant encouragement of additional and more timely service to Cumberland rather than the reverse. One daily round trip is inadequate to meet the needs of this point or to develop adequately its traffic potential."

The above points were presented to persuade the CAB that excessive hardship would be placed upon the Cumberland area if service were suspended. Halting of service would leave the community without any air mail or air freight transportation service, the protestants added.

15,000 Trees To Be Planted Near Lake Koon

Officials of the Evitts Creek Water Company were told yesterday that 15,000 trees will be planted this spring on the city's watershed in the Lake Gordon area.

George M. Hitchcock, superintendent, reported the trees will be secured next month from Pennsylvania's Mt. Alto Nurseries.

Varieties will include 5,000 each of white pine, Banks pine and Norway spruce.

The two and three-year old trees will be planted near the west bank of Lake Koon with equipment supplied by the Maryland Forestry Department.

Officials were told the company has acquired several parcels of land on the watershed at tax sales. The area will be planted to trees to cut erosion and extend the life of the two big reservoirs.

Former mayor Thomas S. Post was elected president of the Evitts Creek Water Company, the Pennsylvania corporation which owns and operates the city's water storage and treatment facilities.

Mayor Roy W. Eves was elected vice president of the company and James Twigg, a member of the Water Department office staff, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Charles Koontz, Bedford, solicitor, is a director of the company and Mrs. Josephine Edwards, water commissioner, an ex-officio director.

Officers were elected yesterday afternoon at the annual meeting held in the office of Mayor Eves.

Fire Officers To Meet

Officers of the LaVale Fire Company and the ladies auxiliary will meet at 8 p.m. Sunday at the fire hall. Interested members of both organizations are invited to attend.

Regional Play

Ansted (22-0) in Area 3, while Baileysville (21-3) and Huntington Douglass (22-3) will battle for the Area 4 title.

The Area 1 playoff will match Sherrard of Marshall County (8-16) and Flemington (25-0) at Fairmont, while Aurora (22-0) will meet Hedgesville (14-1) at Keyser in Area 2.

Burch In Class A

Burch of Delbarton, winner of last year's Class B crown, became an A school this season and has been eliminated from title contention.

Buckley captured Class A honors last season by defeating

Charleston in the championship game. The Flying Eagles lost four mainstays through graduation last spring and must face the only unbeaten team to compete in the regional activity.

The unbeaten home town Tigers and Buckley's amazing tournament history under Coach Jerome Van Meter probably will generate intense interest to jam the new team to its 2,400 capacity.

The Raleigh Countians' most difficult task appears to be a defense to contain Princeton's junior starwalt, Rod Thorn, and his running mate at forward, Jimmy Sayers.

A doubleheader Saturday, March 22, will decide both championships. The Class B title scrap will be played first.

An attempt to expand the State Roads Commission membership from three to five died where it was born, in the Senate.

The subject of wire tapping came up for another legislative look as a result of recent complaints that Baltimore Police had illegally tapped telephone wires to obtain evidence. The Legislature refused to outlaw wiretapping altogether, but it did strip police of authority in the hands of the attorney general and the state's attorneys only.

Another familiar topic cropping up again this session was the question of state control over construction along its highways.

The lawmakers approved limited roadside control by banning billboards and other advertising within 600 feet of new expressways.

Pimlico Transfer Halted

A bill which would have authorized Pimlico Race Track to transfer its operations from Baltimore to the Laurel Race course, was voted down in the Senate.

But Sen. Goldstein (D-Calvert) obtained passage of a resolution to set up a study of Maryland's racing picture, with a special view toward its future revenue raising possibilities.

Unlike last year's 90-day session, this short one saw only a handful of bills aimed at further regulation of automobile drivers. The two rated most important designed to strip habitually reckless drivers of their licenses were rejected.

Spotted by the Baltimore City administration's sudden form reversal and move to abolish its new advertising tax, a bill to discourage such taxes in the future was enacted. It provides that no county or city may tax advertising sales at a higher rate than it taxes any other sales.

Although the measure was widely publicized, there is no such county or non-Baltimore City tax in existence, there is no indication that any such subdivision plans to levy one, and the new law itself can be repealed by any future Legislature. Therefore, it is virtually meaningless.

With an eye to the future, the Legislature granted tax exemp-

Continued Air Service Urged

City Says Allegheny Seeks To Drop Its Feeder Line Function

The Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday was asked to refuse the application of Allegheny Airlines, Inc., to discontinue airline service to and from Cumberland.

The plea was made in an answer and protest, filed with the CAB yesterday by the Mayor and Council of Cumberland and the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce in connection with the application of Allegheny Airlines for an order authorizing temporary suspension of service to this area.

The answer and protest and an accompanying exhibit were prepared by Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, for the protestants.

The exhibit provides statistics concerning the importance of Cumberland and Allegany County as a tri-state trading area.

Is Strategic Point

It is the second largest industrial area in Maryland, the exhibit points out, and is a strategic focal point midway between Washington and Pittsburgh, and Baltimore and Pittsburgh.

In its protest, the City and Chamber made these principal points:

Service inaugurated in Cumberland March 7, 1949, by All American Airways, predecessor of Allegheny Airlines, was most successful when the carrier offered several flights in and out of the city to provide "feeder" line service to the somewhat isolated community.

Service was started only after exhaustive investigation by the company and Civil Aeronautics Administration certification of the airport for daylight flight operations.

Through the elimination of early morning and late afternoon flights and rearrangement of schedules, the service has become less desirable but is still a necessary adjunct to the community life of the city, the exhibit asserted.

Allegheny Airlines and All American have made several attempts, all without avail, to withdraw service from Cumberland and Allegany is certified to serve the city through February 1959.

Ask More Time

Withdrawal of commercial airline service would deal a telling blow to this area's industrial promotion program which has resulted in $100,000 of plant construction, according to the protest.

The exhibit said the CAB should compel Allegheny Airlines to serve Cumberland, at least until its certification expires in February of 1959.

This, the protestants said, will give the area 11 months to find other commercial carriers interested in serving the community.

Granting of the airline's request for immediate suspension would leave this community which serves as the trading area for 185,000 people without commercial air service and with no immediate prospects of obtaining service.

The protestants, Mr. Finan said, feel that Allegheny has never made a concerted effort to promote airline service in the Cumberland area and has never tapped its potential.

'Boy Grows Up'

Allegheny Airlines and its predecessor, All American, represented itself to the CAB and the public as being a "feeder" line which sought to provide smaller communities service with metropolitan areas where trunk line service could be obtained, the answer said, adding:

"The little boy has now grown up and Allegheny is no longer a feeder line" but has become a trunk line, and now wishes to rid itself of its role of a "feeder line" service and in the process of shedding itself of this feeder line service, it stands to do irreparable harm to the community such as Cumberland which it served many years ago."

The airline, the CAB was told, is exaggerating alleged hazardous conditions supposed to be inherent in operations in and out of the city.

CAB Chose Site

The airport site was chosen after exhaustive investigations by the CAB and during the war was used by B-24 bombers and other military aircraft as a landing field, one of the few available in this mountainous region.

The question of technical difficulties which the firm alleges exist at the airport were considered by the CAB in 1952, and the board was apparently satisfied there was no unusual hazard, said Mr. Finan.

Suit To Force Chlorination Is Dismissed

Water Supply Contract Improper

Chief Judge George Henderson yesterday filed an opinion in Allegany County Circuit Court dismissing a bill of complaint by the State Board of Health against the mayor and commissioners of Westernport in which the board had sought to prevent the town from halting chlorination of water supplied to 19 Garrett County families.

The board filed the equity suit six weeks ago, seeking a permanent injunction to restrain the Westernport officials from discontinuing chlorination of the raw water supply at Savage River Dam.

During an all-day hearing on March 6, Judge Henderson said he was inclined to agree with the view of Earl E. Manges, attorney for the Town of Westernport, that the contract of the town to furnish water to 19 Garrett County families living along Savage River between the dam and the Westernport town limits was an "ultra vires" contract, in that the municipality lacks the power to sell water outside its incorporation limits.

Service inaugurated in Cumberland March 7, 1949, by All American Airways, predecessor of Allegheny Airlines, was most successful when the carrier offered several flights in and out of the city to provide "feeder" line service to the somewhat isolated community.

Service was started only after exhaustive investigation by the company and Civil Aeronautics Administration certification of the airport for daylight flight operations.

Through the elimination of early morning and late afternoon flights and rearrangement of schedules, the service has become less desirable but is still a necessary adjunct to the community life of the city, the exhibit asserted.

Allegheny Airlines and All American have made several attempts, all without avail, to withdraw service from Cumberland and Allegany is certified to serve the city through February 1959.

Objects To Cost

Now that the town has built a $250,000 filtration plant, chlorination of the town's water is done there. That is why the town wants to stop chlorinating at the dam. Mr. Manges has argued that the town would continue to chlorinate the water supplied to the 19 families if it did not cost the town anything. He said the operation now costs the town between $3,000 and $4,000 a year.

Counsel for the board argued that it was a legal rather than an economic question and that the mayor and commissioners of Westernport were under obligation to continue furnishing the water. They contended discontinuing chlorination would be a public nuisance because the people have a right to safe water.

Judge Henderson, however, overruled this view.

Boy Grows Up'

Allegheny Airlines and its predecessor, All American, represented itself to the CAB and the public as being a "feeder" line which sought to provide smaller communities service with metropolitan areas where trunk line service could be obtained, the answer said, adding:

"The little boy has now grown up and Allegheny is no longer a feeder line" but has become a trunk line, and now wishes to rid itself of its role of a "feeder line" service and in the process of shedding itself of this feeder line service, it stands to do irreparable harm to the community such as Cumberland which it served many years ago."

Celanese Pact Talks To Resume March 20

Negotiators for Local 1874, Textile Workers Union, and the Celanese Corporation met here yesterday to continue talks on a new contract.

John G. Thomas, president of the union, said plans were made to continue the negotiations at a meeting March 20 at 10 a.m. at the Amcille plant.

Will Build Home

Paul Morin, 109 South Lee Street, secured a permit from the city yesterday to build a 24-by-46-foot split-level home at 1145 Frederick Street. The frame dwelling will be located on a 90-foot lot and will cost about $12,000.

Their announcements are on page 11 today.

Speak At Restaurant Meeting

State and county health officials chat during the Tavern and Restaurant Conference held here yesterday by the Allegany County Health Department. They are, left to right, A. A. Pais, state milk supervisor; C. S. Brinsfield, chief of food control for the State Health Department; Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer, and John R. Meadows, state restaurant supervisor. About 80 operators of eating and drinking establishments of the county attended.

Repair Work Food Industry On Manholes Is Briefed On Progressing Health Rules

The work on the manholes used by Baltimore Street used by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone is expected to be completed the first of next week, according to Charles Smith, chief of the food control unit of the State Health Department, reported here yesterday.

Mr. Smith said crews have been working all week on the enlargement of the conduits beneath the surface of the street at the corner of Baltimore and Liberty streets.

The larger conduits will provide workmen with more room to work on repairs and will provide an additional outlet from beneath the street. Once the project is completed, Mr. Smith said, crews will not have to block Baltimore Street with manhole fences during any repair work.

The truck lines in the Baltimore Street conduits service the downtown section as well as the West Side and McMullen High way.

Similar work also is being done on manholes on Dexter Place and is expected to be finished by the middle of next week.

Both projects were delayed several days because a gas main and water main had to be re-laid before the expansion work could be continued.

The telephone company official also added crews have been working all week relocating toll and local cables in the Narrows near the intersection of U.S. Route 40 and Route 36.

This work is being done in connection with the relocation of part of Route 40 near the intersection. Work on the road project is expected to be started soon by the Cumberland Contracting Company.

Local Church To Hold Evangelistic Services

Evangelistic services at First Evangelical United Brethren Church, Race and Fourth streets, will begin Sunday at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Millard Floyd, pastor of First Evangelical United Brethren Church of Martinsburg, W. Va., will estimate for the work.

His subjects for the week will be: Sunday, "If Any Man Will"; Monday, "Be Not Afraid"; Tuesday, "First Swedish Rhapsody" by Leiden; Wednesday, "Waltzing Winds" by Osterling; "Amaranta Rocca" by Texidor; "Vincent Youman Fantasy" arranged by Yoder and "Emblem of Unity" by Anderson.

The orchestra's program will include "La Vie Parisienne" by Dorati; "Plink Plank Plunk" by Anderson; "Fiddl'osophy" by Barnes and "Alma Mater" by Anderson.
